

Hicham Mokhtari

INTERNSHIP: FEDEX CENTRAL PLANNING & ENGINEERING

Aan: Agneta Bakker

FedEx Express Europe

Dear Ms Agneta Bakker,

I am writing to you to show my interest and motivation for the following vacancy, Planning & Engineering Internship. I am highly motivated to do an international internship. After reading this opportunity at LinkedIn I knew immediately that this would be something for me.

In the past I've followed a summer course of the English language at Education First (EF) in New York city. The classes were with other students from around the world. therefore an international setting is one I'm quite familiar with. After this period I continued my studies micro-biology and did an internship at Koppert Biological Systems in Berkel en Rodenrijs. Currently, I am studying Business IT & Management in Rotterdam.

Besides my study I've worked part time at different kinds of laboratories around Rotterdam. such as Koppert Biological Systems and Nutricia. These companies are international orientated workplaces and I have come to appreciate such environments. In my free time I like to play sports such as swimming and jogging but I also like to read Non- fiction.

From my past experience and close friends, I am known as a person with Dutch pragmatism and a proactive attitude. I have sufficient communication skills both written and oral in English and the Dutch language. I am willing to learn and try out new ideas and would say I am a person that can reflect on my own performance. I believe too be a team player and look for the cohesiveness in a group. I believe that these characteristics suit the offered vacancy.

I was very delighted to find the opportunity to spend one semester learning the practical aspects of change management and Business analysis. I have decided to apply for this vacancy because I am sure it would strongly enrich my future prospects as well as being an asset to the company.

I would be very pleased to be invited for an interview to talk about this opportunity and to tell you more about myself and my ambitions. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward hearing from you.

Yours sincerely,

Hicham Mokhtari